[SPECIALLY TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO APRIL 26.

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

VERSAILLES, April 25.—Thiers, in a circular of the 24th, says the last few days were employed in engineering work and concentrating troops. New corps are formed at Cherbourg, Cambrais and Chinchart.

The Communists in a late engagement at Bagneaux were unsuccessful. There will be great operations soon. There is heavy cannonading at Bagneaux. The batteries of Mendon, Cretenil and Chatillon were opened on Vanvres and Porte de Jour.

The official journal says that until the insurrection is quelled the Germans will hold certain forts because the Government is without credit.

PARIS, April 25.—Regnault resigns the delegateship of Public Safety. Couret is his successor. Pyatt withdraws his resignation.

Several reconnoissances were made by the Versaillists and found the enemy in strong position and attacked them. The result is not yet known. The Versaillists are establishing new batteries.

Dombrowski demands the prosecution of the chiefs of the 220th and 221st battalions for cowardice. The commandant at Fort Monhony claims a Commune victory.

LONDON, April 25.—Paris advices yesterday state that Cluseret and the Central Committee are quarreling. Cluseret is accused of being a Bonapartist and his arrest is threatened.

LONDON, April 25.—The steamer Queen of Thames, from Melbourne for London, is lost with many passengers.

EASTERN STATES.

The Inundation in Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, April 25.—The latest news says the crevasse is 700 feet wide. Nothing official has been received from the Bonnet Carre crevasse. This morning the water is running over the track of the Jackson road between the 13th and 14th mile posts. At Kenner's volunteers have turned out to throw up works to stop the water coming in from the rear. Chief Engineer Thompson has just received official information that Wallace crevasse at St. James is effectually stopped. Morer's and Viller's crevasses have both been closed. Men and material have gone to McDonough crevasse. It is expected that it will be closed by to-night. Nothing has been received from Poverty Point to-day. Gen. Thompson asserts that there is no danger of the city being overflowed.

NEW ORLEANS, April 25.—There are rumors of a crevasse at Blue Stone in Point Coupee, and that Bayou Sare is inundated. The levee from Red River to these points is intact and the river is falling. No water from Bonnet Carre crevasse is nearer the city than thirteen miles. The river in front of the city is sixteen inches below the high water mark of 1862 and falling.

OREGON.

Steamboat fares from Salem to Portland have been reduced to $1 50.

The name of the convict who so grossly and wilfully abused Bill Watkinds' confidence by running away from the penitentiary, is W. H. Burst, not Charles Nash.

A farmer in Marion county has his wheat crops for 1868 and 1869 still on hand. He is holding them for $1 25 per bushel. Last week he could have taken $1 20. It seems probable that he has made a mistake which he will regret. Many farmers do just so.

From the Statesman: Yesterday we received a call from Mr. E. E. Wheeler, of Scio, who with Messrs. Ostrander, Hendrix and Courtney, all of that vicinity, is bound on a tour of inspection of the country east of the mountains with a view to select locations for stock ranches. Really Eastern Oregon is getting to be quite in demand.

The Salem Statesman is responsible for the following: We lately asked a well known citizen, who takes no daily newspaper, the reason why? and received the very satisfactory information that, "when he was hunting for a faith, and had no established religion, he had use for newspapers; but now his mind was made up, he had discovered there was no hell, and doubted if there was any heaven, and he didn't care a d—n for any newspaper, he was a woman's rights man."

From the Statesman: The P. T. Co. are now building a larger class of boats for the river trade of next season, to be 150 feet long and 6 feet deep in the hold, with a capacity to carry 250 tons, about double that of the present boats. The appropriation of last Congress for the improvement of the Upper Willamet, was $16,000, which is going to be expended as soon as the river is low enough, and the improvements made thereby will enable the boats to run all summer to Albany with more ease than ever before.

The Roseburg Ensign is not disposed to allow the authors of the $75,000 robbery to enjoy their booty in quiet. So it goes for them again in its last issue, in this style: We ask our fellow citizens—what do you think of this high handed propedure so often alluded to by us, and for which no justification has ever been given? How do you like Democratic legislation? Is it subserving the best interests of the State? Is it economical? Do you propose again to entrust your highest interests to such representatives? Ask your neighbors whether it was right for the Democratic Legislature to vote away $75,000 of the people's money, when they could have saved it by permitting another company to perform the same service for that much less.

POLITICAL NOTES.

At Vallejo (Cal.) the Republicans have a club which numbers 1,000 members.

In 1859 the total assessed property of North Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia, Kentucky, Florida, Mississippi and Virginia (Old and West) was $3,109,935,889. In 1870 it was but $1,455,782,515—a decrease of 55 per cent. We believe that these States would show a tax list as high as that of 1860 but for the infamies and destructive operations of the Ku Klux who infest them.

Bishop Kip, in the Overland Monthly for April in some "Recollections of Timothy Pickering," an eminent statesman of Washington's time and a member of his Cabinet, relates a remarkable prediction made by him, which has since been fulfilled. Mr. Pickering lived for a time in Pennsylvania, and upon returning to Massachusetts, was asked how he liked the former State. "Very much," he said, "so far as soil and climate are concerned. But I was glad to get out of it. A civil war with the South one day is inevitable, and I did not wish to leave my descendants so near the border line."

A telegram from New Haven to the New York Tribune gives the following version of the Democratic fraud by which it was sought to elect English: An error in the count of Governor's vote has been discovered in the Fourth Ward; New Haven, where English gets 100 more votes than were actually polled for him. It is thought to be a clear case of fraud, and that this is not the first time it has occurred there. There is no doubt of the overcount. This discovery, with the overcount in Enfield, will give Jewell over 100 majority. Of course the Legislature alone can legally determine the fasts, but it is reported that, as the evidence is so clear, Gov. English will decline to make any contest over it, and it is possible that he may concede the election of Jewell before the meeting of the General Assembly.

The ship Jeremiah Thompson sailed from Puget Sound for Callao a few days ago with 1,300,000 feet of lumber; the largest cargo but one ever shipped from there.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

The Civil War in France.

VERSAILLES, April 25.—Fort Issy replied feebly yesterday. It is thought it will be evacuated soon, the incessant fire preventing repairs. The government is establishing pontoons between Puteaux and Neuilly.

NEW YORK, April 26.—A special correspondent telegraphs from Paris on Monday evening that natives of Alsace and Lorraine, here, are exempted from military service on production of certificate of birth.

Notices are served on persons between 18 and 40 years of age threatening court martial in each case if they do not march immediately to rendezvous appointed.

Just now a company of the 112th Battalion are surrounding Rue Montmartre to disarm the 116th Battalion.

The troops are disheartened, and refuse to go out to-night.

This afternoon shells were falling in Avenue Friedland, and Avenue Des Feries. Elysee and Josephine were swept by mitrailleuses, and the inhabitants and Nationales were flying in all directions, seeking shelter.

The barricades in Rues Rivoli and Castiglione are being strengthened, and preparations are being made for a desperate resistance.

Bergeret is at liberty.

The Central Committee denies the report of its resignation and says, like the National Guard, it will only disappear when liberty is obtained.

A train on the Northern Railroad was stopped to-day, and the morning provisions on the Strasbourg Railroad were seized.

VERSAILLES, April 25.—Firing from siege guns was light to-day, and was directed mainly against Forts Issy and Vanvres. The weather is misty; no movement on either side.

In the Assembly to-day Minister Picard announced that all requisite measures had been taken to keep down insurrection in Algeria.

PARIS, April 25, Evening.—All movements are suspended to-day, in consequence of an armistice. The belligerents have been engaged in building and repairing barricades. Many placards urging conciliation have been posted up.

M. Pyatt has withdrawn his resignation and remains in the Commune.

The Revied says the daily revenue of the commune averages six hundred thousand francs and is sufficient to provide for men under arms and the conduct of the war.

Reports that the Prussians had evacuated Charenton, were unfounded. The Communists and Versaillists confront each other before the place in expectation of its evacuation.

Other European News.

VIENNA, April 25.—Government has introduced a bill in the Reichsrath giving provincial districts the right of initiation in legislation.

BRUSSELS, April 24.—The northern railway announces that the stations are blockaded and that provisions destined for Paris will be retransmitted to senders.

FLORENCE, April 25.—The Papal guarantees' discussion continues in the Senate. The Minister of Justice announces a bill for the separation of Church and State.

CUBA.

The Insurrection.

HAVANA, April 25.—A correspondent at Sancti Spiritu, says there are more insurgent bands in district than at the beginning of the war. A band has invaded this jurisdiction from Cienaguy and have destroyed much valuable property. Valmaseda, since his arrival, has given them constant pursuit and has ordered the execution of persons accused of abetting the insurgents.

CHINA.

Peculiar notions of the "heathen Chinee."

SHANGHAI, April 12th.—Chinese demand that Ambassadors to female schools be abolished. Doctrines opposed to Confucius are forbidden. Missionaries are considered Chinese subjects and a prohibition to women attending religious services is established.

EASTERN STATES.

The Negotiation with England.

NEW YORK, April 26th.—The Tribune Washington special says, it is positively asserted, that the treaty of the Joint High Commission will contain no provisions of any kind for reciprocity with Canada, that the proposition to balance free fisheries with free importation of lumber, coal, etc. made in commission is doubted, but as American commerce were assured that no treaty which contained such propositions would be ratified, all reciprocity was omitted.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Byrne's closing address in the Fair trial, though able and effective, was shorter than any anticipated, and he closed somewhat abruptly at half past 2 P. M. Judge Dwinelle then commenced to read a lengthy charge to the jury, which is spoken of as remarkably clear and impartial.

The lumber fire at the Pacific Hotel last night does not exceed $5,000.

The schooner Margaret Crocker, loaded with lumber at Coos Bay for Tahiti, while being towed out over the bar, struck, filled with water and sunk. She cannot be raised. She was owned by A. Crawford & Co. of San Francisco, and was a fine and valuable vessel. The loss is reported by the schooner H. L. Drew, which has just arrived.

The inquest in the Peterson tragedy will be held this evening.

Kelly and Dunn, "San Francisco hoodlums," arrested at the picnic in San Jose, of the Sarsfield Guard, on Saturday, are doing duty in the chain gang on the streets, which, together with the fact that a third one got his throat cut by an Indian at the same place, gives great satisfaction to our citizens.

Mrs. Fair found guilty of murder in the first degree.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26th.—Contrary to all expectations the Jury in the Fair Case was out only 40 minutes. It returned a verdict of murder in the first degree. The prisoner is a little paler than usual, but otherwise unmoved. The mother wept. The child wept. She clung to her.

Some jurors were much affected. The public read the verdict with surprise but with every manifesting satisfaction.

The number in attendance at the Odd Fellows' picnic to-day was far less than anticipated on account of unpleasant weather. Everything passed off pleasantly, with no accidents or disturbance of any kind.

A gentleman at the Merchants' Exchange has received a present of a Masonic apron and collar, taken from the body of an English officer at the battle of Waterloo. It is blood stained and faded but otherwise it is perfect and its authenticity is undoubted.

The verdict in the Fair case is almost the sole topic of conversation on the streets. Up to within the past week it was generally believed that the trial would result in a perfect farce and acquittal of the prisoner, or disagreement of the jury. This week the impression has been strong that the jury would convict her of manslaughter. Still nobody expected them to agree so quickly. It is probably not improper now to say that the prosecution had the names of numerous witnesses by which specific acts of the prisoner could be shown, which would have exhibited her character in a far more revolting light than it now appears. These acts were many of them committed during the period of her intimacy with Crittenden, and indicates a heartlessness and villenpss almost beyond belief.

The impression is general that her sentence will ultimately be commuted to imprisonment for life.

The gratification expressed at the results of the doctrines put forth in her defense, and the open and avowed sympathy of a certain class of females with the prisoner, is almost universal in the community.

This evening Judge Dwinelle ordered the prisoner brought up for sentence on Saturday next.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

LOS ANGELES, April 26.—The Odd Fellows' society here to-day celebrated the fifty-second anniversary.

One thousand horses, for the Montana market, were purchased in this county last week, and are being sent forward.

Over one hundred thousand pounds of base bullion, from the silver mines in Sierra Gordo, is en route to Los Angeles.

Wm. H. Seward, jr., and party, who are making an extended tour of southern California, have the last few days been visiting Anaheim, San Juan, Capistrano, and Las Flores, everywhere meeting with a warm reception. They return here to-morrow.

MARYSVILLE, April 26.—John Bowen, alias Black Jack, and John Samson, indicted by the Grand Jury of Sutter county of the robbery of Boyd & Wilcoxson's safe, in Yuba City, were found guilty of the charge of burglary, and will be sentenced on Saturday next. Charles Benton, arrested for same crime, turned State's evidence, and on his evidence conviction was gained.

The Trinidad fugitives, found guilty of grand larceny a few days since, were sentenced to-day to three years' imprisonment in the State Prison.

Penmanship in Common Schools.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Will you allow me, through the columns of your paper to offer a few practical, off-hand suggestions on the manner of teaching Penmanship in the schools of our city. Is Penmanship a necessary study? and if so, why is this branch so much neglected in common life? Since so much of the business of life is conducted in whole, or in greater part, through the medium of the Pen, it certainly proves that good writing is not only useful, but positively a necessity. We ask, again, that so many of the graduates of our highest institutions of learning are so negligent and careless in their writing? I do not wish to say anything to reflect on the learning and wisdom of the readers of Latin, Greek, etc., but the question is often asked, Mr. Editor, and any observing person can notice that nine-tenths of a hundred are very deficient in "the art." A college or university that can not afford to pay for Teachers of Penmanship must expect their graduates to write poorly. At some institutions in the course of study is conducted in such a [illegible] style that the common [illegible] form the foundation often [illegible] neglected, [illegible] Greek, etc., the same time being allotted to each, often regardless of the capacity of the student—and thus the foundation is neglected. It is usually supposed a student will, or can, remodel his writing after completing his college course. Ten chances to one he is too proud, when backed up by his "sheepskin," and wearing the title "Professor."

[illegible] illustrates the fact that it is [illegible] till [illegible] Teacher can be [illegible] college. The youth [illegible] ty of [illegible] ly by [illegible] the [illegible] and [illegible] in every walk of [illegible] society.

In the cities of San Francisco, Sacramento, New York, Boston and many other cities, penmanship is made a specialty, and a Professor, well skilled in the art is employed at a good salary, who goes into all the public schools of the city daily, and thus writing is taught with uniformity; and pupils do not have to "change their hand," as they are advanced from one grade to the next higher. Let him go to the "high" school, and there he finds his accustomed teacher, who knows how to advance him in writing in proportion to the grade to which he belongs. Our school directors of Portland would do well to follow the example of other cities. Our citizens would willingly pay extra for such an arrangement.

To suppose that a teacher can teach penmanship in a school who can not write what he proposes teaching, is as preposterous as to expect him to teach grammar under similar circumstances. The great educational system is [illegible] that all the other branches are uniformly taught. Now, let the school directors employ a writing teacher, as in other cities, and there will be a marked improvement in less than three months. One teacher can conduct writing exercises daily in all the schools of this city—each school having different hour.

Hoping these suggestions may be considered for the best interests of our schools, I remain

Yours truly,

J. S. W.

GRANT'S SILENCE AND HIS TALE.—A writer in the Golden Age gives the following account of President Grant, on both the taciturn and the talkative side:

In short, President Grant is both the most taciturn and the most loquacious man now going. There are times when you cannot get a word out of him. There are times when you cannot get a chance for a word out of yourself. Under the following circumstances President Grant is very apt to be silent:

First—When he has nothing to say. (And that is a difficult and rare merit in [illegible] woman.)

Second—When he is still in doubt [illegible] topic introduced.

Third—When he is not sure of [illegible] pany.

Fourth—When he dislikes [illegible] Under any of these conditions [illegible] invincibly speechless; his face wears a dazed, vacant expression; no amount of embarrassment on the part of those who are with him can betray him to take pity on them by anything more than the eloquence of a monosyllable.

But reverse these conditions, and a miraculous transformation takes place. All his personal friends know that he is a great talker. There is never any animation in his outward manner; but he talks on and on, not in any rattling way, but urgently and without intermission, till he has fully uttered himself. And he talks well. An exacting critic might, indeed, speak of some flaws in the outward costume of his conversation—a certain Western flatness and aridity of tone, a provincial pronunciation, an occasional sin against syntax. But, in spite of these, he talks well. He picks up the plain blunt words of the market and the street; he puts them together tersely, and without an effort utters them in a very pat and pithy way. His whole manner is simple and unassuming. He has no verbal ambitions. He makes no attempt at shining. He lacks ease, variety and mental agility. But he talks square sense in a square fashion. His conversation would not suggest his greatness; neither does it belie it. Above all, however, it does suggest honesty, simplicity and manliness.

A fatal affray occurred at Blackfoot City, on the 24th ult., between John Martell, a ditch owner, and Ah Sing, the foreman of a Chinese company, resulting in the instant death of the latter by a revolver shot. The Chinese, several [illegible] ber, then turned loose with their weapons [illegible] Martell ran for Blackfoot, going up the gulch. The noise aroused another Chinese [illegible] the gulch, when finding he was headed [illegible] took to the hills, directing his [illegible] boots, while running, and [illegible] barefoot and nearly exhausted, the [illegible] of Chinese chasing him nearly to the town limits, and some thirty or forty shots fired in the chase. Martell was arrested; also some ten or twelve Chinese, who were held under bond, and Blackfoot was in a fever of excitement all that day.

Lands, Railroads Etc

In Washington county for the last two or three weeks there has been a fever of speculation in lands contiguous to the line of the proposed railway and prices have gone up to fancy figures Some purchases have been made at forty dollars an acre, and much higher prices in some cases are asked General excitement among land owners is reported The proximity of those parts of Washington county to Portland the general excellence of the land and the unsurpassed beauty of the situation, all combine to make it a most desirable locality yet we cannot avoid the conviction that the expectations of great results to follow the construction of the railroad there are rather high and somewhat premature Five years hence, when we have a much greater population, prices may be well sustained and may even go higher But we think it probable that there will be a feeling of disappointment next year, when after the completion of the first section of the railroad the immediate results will be found not equal to anticipations. But land owners have only to wait a little longer, for, when the Wallamet valley becomes the seat of a crowded population land must certainly be very valuable especially when situated so favorably as are the splendid tracts in Washington county

Since it became known that the construction of the west side road was a fixed fact the west side of the valley has been attracting most attention here, and there has been less tendency to speculate in east side lands. These things go by fits and turns, and speculation which is essentially without rule or reason, may after a while take another direction.

In Yamhill county the rage of speculation is much less violent It has scarcely spread yet to Polk and Benton

The people of Lane county as well as those of a portion of Linn are evincing their interest in railroad matters and their appreciation of the importance of railroad facilities by subscribing liberally to induce the construction of the road along the route most favorable to them At Harrisburg and in that vicinity the people have pledged almost or quite the amount expected of them They assumed the task of raising $20,000 of the $60,000 necessary to insure compliance with the proposition of Mr Holladay. Eugene City undertook to raise the other $40 000 This sum has not yet been all pledged, but it is believed it will be by the first of May

Ku Klux

While Northern Democratic papers like the Oregon Herald are denying and trying to the existence of the bands of ruffians organized in the South in the interest of the Democratic party these bands in many localities make no secret of their existence. For instance, the annexed letter appeared in the Aberdeen Examiner, a Democratic paper on [illegible] in reference to the case of [illegible] Huggins, an United States Assessor [illegible] who was flogged by a Ku Klux crowd with one hundred lashes.

MONTEZUMA March 13, 1871.—Major Jones Hearing a great many things that are not so as to the proceedings of our organization, I have concluded to give you a few facts, which you will please publish in your Thursday's issue. We understand as Maj Huggins says he did not get more as we have If such is the case, he received a rarity We gave him twenty five lashes gently and then asked him if he would leave this part of the moral vineyard" He replied very independently that he could not make any such promise One of the men that was killed at Metz had charge of the silk ribbon and gave him such a fine more, but he still refused to make such a promise Count Bismarck then took charge of the ribbon, and went up among the stairs and came down on him, and if there is any truth in him he bellowed it out We gave him [illegible] days and he said he would be gone We suppose he will fulfill his promise, for if we have to call on him any more, Ulysses will have to appoint an Internal Revenue officer to fill his place We understand that the Major and others have gone down to Jackson to see about organizing the militia If so, when they return, please tell them to notify us through your paper We want them to muster their command up on Splunge land prairie We want them all up there to fertilize [illegible] that soil If any of the gentry wish to come our way will please call at our office at about A M Hoping to see this in your next issue we remain in the name of peace and order,

K K K

General Kershaw a Confederate, now in South Carolina, says that the only way to stop the operations of the Ku Klux and restore order, is for the carpet bag and scalawag governments of the South to vacate, and allow the gentleman of that section to rule, as of old! And this proscriptive, murderous organization is one that Northern Democrats define it wrong to suppress!

A Periodical Exception

The Red Rock Democrat of Baker county, in an article deprecating the "tyranny of station for the suppression of the Ku Klux predicts the overthrow of liberty in the United States, and meanders on in this pitiful way

"If the dominant party of the country, of which Grant seems of late to be absolute leader and master striking down right and left, all advocates whose opinions do not coincide with his, in order to sustain him and lend him strength to continue this infamous despotism which seems to be the ruling spirit of the hour, and in 1872 reinstate him into office it will not be as President, but as a [illegible] ask who will never, while he lives, ask of his people through the ballot box another expression of their views of his administration! He will seat himself permanently as a dictator of this nation and the political horrors of the future cannot even be imagined.

This has been the talk for years Mr. Lincoln we were told on the same authority in '64 was going to re-elect himself by fraud military force, and be a perpetual dictator afterwards We were never to have another election So in 1868, when Gen Grant was elected, the days of the Republic were ended Grant would proclaim himself a dictator, and another Presidential election would never take place Even Frank Blair who is supposed to have a few grains of sense more than some of the stupid, besotted editors in his party, proclaimed the same thing And now they are harping again on the same string Is it possible that they can really believe their words? If they do there is never a more alarming amount of the most dense and sodden stupidity in the country

In order to make a point against the Republican party for neglect of swamp land business, the Roseburg Plaindealer says that the Legislature of 1860 was not Democratic nor can our (the Democratic) party be held responsible for its many wrongs' There were just fourteen Republicans in that body of the fifty members who constituted it. It was less than one-third Republican The Plaindealer courteously says it is a 'Republican lie" to say that the Legislature was Democratic, when the fact is, and the records show, that hardly more than one-fourth of its members were Republicans.

Matt Taylor has accepted an invitation to act "as poet of the day in the Fourth of July celebration at Port Townsend

Political Sunbeams from Frost bitten Cucumbers

The Herald continues to jubilate over the Democratic victory in Connecticut Just how much of a victory for that party the result in that State has proved will appear by the following indisputable statement, viz

The Republicans have elected three out of the four Congressmen

They have a majority of five in the State Senate and a popular majority on the aggregate vote for Senators throughout the State

They have a majority of twenty two in the lower branch of the Legislature and a popular majority on the aggregate vote for members of this branch throughout the State

They have elected all the candidates on their State ticket except Governor, by good majorities

No candidate for Governor has a clear majority of the popular vote and the election will go into the Legislature where the Republicans as before shown have a large majority

Is this a Democratic victory to brag of Especially when it is remembered that the Democrats carried the State last year by nearly one thousand majority?

But if the Herald is determined to continue its efforts to extract political sunbeams from frost bitten cucumbers we do not wish to be understood as making objection

Nearly thirty years ago Thomas H Benton delivered the following prophecy "The man is now living and full grown, listening to my words without believing them, who will see the day when the commerce of the Indies will cross the North Pacific, will enter the waters of the Columbia and climb the slope of the Rocky Mountains, and pour down over the widely extended Union

The time is now at hand when any information with respect to the expulsion of mosquitos from a room is sure to be acceptable A writer in a South Carolina paper says: I have tried the following and find it to work like a charm—Take of gum camphor a piece about one third the size of an egg and evaporate it by placing it in a tin vessel, and holding it over a lamp or candle taking care that it does not ignite. The smoke will soon fill the room and expel the mosquitoes One night I was terribly annoyed by them, when I thought of and tried the above, after which I never saw or heard of them that night, and the next morning there was not one to be found in the room, though the window had been left open all that night

A Boston paper is authority for the story that John G Whittier never composed a stanza without bringing on an attack of neuralgia, from which it is inferred that his verses cost him more pains than do those of any poet in America It is a pity some of the common sort of rhymsters were not deterred from labor by even severer ailments

Mrs Allibone, wife of the author of the "Dictionary of Authors," acted as her husband's amanuensis, and copied 30,000 large foolscap pages for the press, besides doing a great deal of other work, as looking up and verifying dates, facts, etc She must have been a help mate of the old fashioned sort

TUESDAY MORNING, APRIL 27, 1871.

CITY.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

REGULAR MEETING, APRIL 26, 1871.

His Honor, the Mayor, presiding; Messrs. Breck, Besser, Congle, Cree, Mosier and Mossfeldt.

PURCHASE OF GROUND.

A communication was received from a committee of the Columbian Engine Co. No. 3, in relation to the purchase of twenty-five feet of ground in the rear of their engine house; referred to the Committee on Fire and Water.

PETITIONS.

The following petitions were received and referred:

W. O. Allen for use of certain streets for buildings; granted.

Caldwell and others for change of grade of street, at Jackson; referred to Committee on Streets and Public Property.

Petition of Stevenbridge for leave to put down a basement in sidewalk; referred to Committee on Streets.

Petition of Stevenbridge, agent, for leave to construct a bridge over Washington street, referred to Committee on Streets.

Petition of [illegible] and others, for the improvement of Fifth street, between F and G—referred to Committee on Streets.

Petition of [illegible] for the use of Third street for a market; Granted.

Petition of [illegible] for remission of taxes; referred to Committee of Ways and Means.

APPEARANCES.

Reasons set forth as reasons why the right of way should not be granted, that the location of a railroad using steam power would be a great injury to property on the street; that the street was dedicated to the public use, it has been improved for such purpose, and abutting has been purchased in view of such public use of the street; that the Council has the power to remove obstructions, but has no power to grant to any person to obstruct the street; and that the building and use of the road with steam locomotives would be a nuisance to travel and use.

The petition is signed by fifty names representing 5,650 feet front on the street. It was referred to the special committee to whom was referred the ordinance granting the right of way—Messrs. Hall, Cree and Hill.

FERRY FRANCHISE.

A petition was received from Joseph Knott, asking the use of the foot of Columbia street for a ferry landing.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

The committee of ways and means, to whom was referred the report of the City Treasurer relative to the collection of taxes, reported that they had examined the same, and report in favor of publication as required by law. The report shows that of the taxes assessed for 1870 there had been collected $41,152.76, that the Treasurer had had received and collected $76 taxes upon property omitted from the roll, total collections $41,266.68; delinquent on the roll $10,277 97.

The committee on streets and public property, to whom was refered the ordinance to open certain streets, reported the same back and recommended the passage of the ordinance.

FRONT STREET EXTENSION.

The ordinance of the extension of Salmon street from Twelfth street to the western boundary of the city, reported their proceedings in the matter of benefits and damages received, and the committee on Streets and Public Property.

CLAIMS AGAINST THE CITY.

The following bills were ordered paid: J. Lewis, trees on park blocks, $325; setting trees on streets, hauling, $2 50; H. Lewis, hauling, $5 82; A. G. Walling, $6; C. W. Parrish, fees for [illegible]; Willamet Iron Works, sewer pipe, $15 48; J. A. Thomas, setting in engine house, $1 50, Kelley, park street work, $64 53.

ORDINANCES.

An ordinance to declare the cost of constructing a sewer across South Front street, and laid over.

An ordinance to make an appropriation for such sewer, read twice and laid over.

An ordinance to provide for the erection of fire hydrants, read three times and passed.

An ordinance to regulate the cost of keeping [illegible], read twice and laid over.

An ordinance to provide for sprinkling streets, taken up, amended by striking out the clause forbidding the sale of liquors in a theater, and the ordinance was passed.

RESOLUTIONS.

The following resolutions were adopted:

That the Surveyor to survey extension of streets between Lincoln and [illegible] inclusive, from South Front street to the road.

That the Committee on Streets and the Surveyor to inquire and report upon the location of College street is legally located.

That the Auditor and Clerk to cause to be published in the Herald such notices and documents as may be required by the State [illegible] published in that paper.

Upon the adoption of this resolution the ayes and nays were taken, as follows: Messrs. Besser, Congle, Drake, Hill and Mosier—5. Nays—Messrs. Breck and [illegible].

The Council adjourned.

LAND AFTER OREGON LANDS.—Ex-Gov. [illegible], of this city, Real Estate Agent and Land Commissioner of the State, has received an application from parties in California to purchase a section of land in this State, of not less than nine hundred acres, for farming purposes. They offer to pay one-fourth of the purchase money down and the balance in three equal installments. They propose to establish a colony of 5,000 to 10,000 inhabitants within five years, but to commence immediately if the tract of land can be had on reasonable terms. The proposition is a practical consequence of former reports in regard to the immigration which is beginning to be felt among California, in Oregon. The writer of the letter to Gov. Curry says the parties applying "mean business."

THE TUG THAT COOKE SAILS IN.—We saw yesterday, at a cooper shop in the lower end of town, the tub made for Mr. Jas. Cooke's proposed voyager down Ross Island to the East Portland ferry landing. It is made three feet in diameter at the bottom and three and a half feet at the top—that is, it looks just like any other wash tub. What sort of vessel in which to risk one's precious person. Cooke may do as he likes with his own, but for us give us a ferry boat—something staunch and to be relied on.

SALE OF PROPERTY.—The grounds of the Agricultural Association will be disposed of by the shareholders next Tuesday. The property will be put up in lots or tracts, and disposed of to whomsoever shall offer the largest bonus. By the rise in real estate in this city of late, the shares are now worth a handsome sum.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY, J.—This morning at 10 A. M. yesterday, but without transacting any business, adjourned to Saturday.

"MONEY PLENTY—TIMES FIRST RATE."—A gentleman writing from Jefferson adds to his list for this note: "Everybody busy putting in spring crops; large area being sown. Weather fine; grass good; money plenty, and times first rate. About one thousand head of cattle have been driven from here this spring for Eastern Oregon. Several families and a number of young men have gone there too." "Money plenty and times first rate," is the result of building the railroad.

THROUGH TO SACRAMENTO.—By an arrangement soon to go into effect, the railroads and stage company will put the mails and passengers through between Portland and Sacramento in about four days.

The following is her list of passengers: Dr. Hartanff, Mrs. Kashavanoff, Mrs. Solamatoff and sister, Mrs. Chrishkin and child, Mrs. Wegertoff, Fred. Newarth, Jacob Lanburger and Thomas Murphy. She brought five tons of freight, mostly hides.

MR. PUNSHON'S LECTURE.—The delay in the arrival of the steamer will enable the Rev. Mr. Punshon to deliver his lecture on "Babylon" in the Taylor Street M. E. Church to-morrow evening. It will be seen by advertisement in our columns that reserved seats may be secured by application to Mr. R. Cornell at Harris & Holman's book store, from 10 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M., to-day and to-morrow.

BENEFIT LECTURE.—Arrangements are in progress for a lecture at Philharmonic Hall, soon, for the benefit of a poor widow lady in this city. The lecture will be delivered by Capt. S. J. McCormick on Thursday evening, May 4th. Subject—"Music and Poetry of Ireland." The programme for the evening promises a fine entertainment.

THE SECOND START.—We are informed, through private sources, that the river steamer Annie Stewart, which started some days ago from San Francisco for the Columbia river and put back again, made a second start yesterday. Upon her first start, she encountered a heavy head swell, and it was thought prudent to return and wait for a calmer sea.

A NEW MINISTER COMING.—We learn from a private letter from Bloomfield, Iowa, that, by the authority of Bishop Ames, the Rev. C. W. Shaw a Methodist preacher, is to be stationed at this city, though in what capacity the writer does not state. Mr. Shaw expects to arrive here by the middle of June, or perhaps a little later.

COMMITTED FOR ROBBERY.—The Police Judge, yesterday, committed a man named William Scott to the County Jail in default of bail in the sum of $500 for his appearance before the Grand Jury, on a charge of garroting and robbing Wm. White. Scott lately came from Sitka, where he had served as a soldier.

LARCENY ROGUE CAUGHT.—An officer from Astoria arrived Tuesday evening in search of a man charged with larceny of goods at that place. He caught him, found a part of the stolen goods and yesterday morning left with him for Astoria.

ANNIVERSARY DAY.—The flags at the Odd Fellows Temple was flying at topmast yesterday in honor of the day—the anniversary of the introduction of the order into America.

PERSONAL.—Gov. Grover, Col. E. C. Rice, U. S. Consul at Japan, and E. Lampson, Esq., of New York, arrived in town yesterday and are stopping at the St. Charles Hotel.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE GREENHOUSE of Morgan Bros., corner of Morrison and Park streets, is becoming a place of considerable attraction to all lovers of Floral Balm. The proprietors are constantly making improvements and adding to their collection.

RAILROAD COMPANY ANNUAL MEETING.—The annual meeting of the Oregon Central Railroad Company will be held in this city on the 28th day of May, for the election of a Board of Directors.

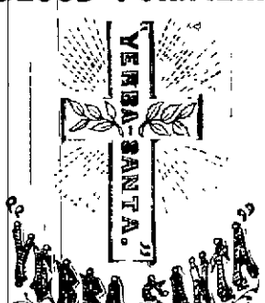
THE GREAT
BLOOD PURIFIER.



An Infallible BLOOD PURIFIER, possessing rare TONIC and NERVINE

THREE NEW BOOKS.

Mr. R. T. Martin has laid upon our table three new and very useful books for which he is now canvassing the city. The first of these volumes is a splendid large volume of 1,040 pages, with 1,000 illustrations. It gives a clear, full, and very readable account of nearly every known species of animals. The book is arranged methodically and scientifically; yet the whole work is written in a manner so simple and entertaining that even children may read it with instruction and delight. In fact it is a great book for boys; yet its articles are so full, and are made up with so much scientific preparation that the learned can derive instruction from them.

THE FARMER'S AND MECHANIC'S MANUAL.

This is a book of solid worth and practical utility. The author says in his preface that "those who consult this book must remember that it is not a book of recipes or prescriptions, but for the most part a work of facts and figures—assured analysis and demonstrations, about which there can be no dispute." The table of contents is extensive, and embraces almost every topic of practical interest to the farmer, and mechanic. It tells how much material, rails, posts or lumber, is required to build a fence of any given length; the manner in which a cistern must be constructed to hold so many gallons; the manner of supplying water from streams by a hydraulic ram, for irrigation and for other purposes; the method of ascertaining the strength of materials; how many trees can be planted to the acre in an orchard at different distances apart, and an immense fund of general and practical information of a similar kind. The book also contains many valuable tables.

THE PACIFIC LAW ENCYCLOPEDIA.

This is a complete hand-book gotten up especially for the use of the people of the Pacific coast. Its author, J. F. Cowdery, Esq., has adapted it to the use of all classes. A leading San Francisco paper says of it: "A work of more practical value than this cannot be easily designed. It is a complete and reliable epitome of the laws of the States of the Pacific Slope, arranged in such a manner that the ordinary man of business capacity may ascertain from its pages the precise terms of the law upon any subject. The ordinary citizen appointed as guardian of minors and the trustee of property, would hardly be expected to know the exact nature of his rights, duties and responsibilities. He would be compelled to seek the advice of a lawyer, unless himself somewhat versed in law. But this book makes everything so plain that he could scarcely err in his obligations. It is the sum of immense volumes of law condensed in a single book. We do not mean that it would enable every man to conduct a case in court; but it shows him how to keep out of court, or what to expect if he goes in. The contents are admirably classified and arranged in alphabetical order. It is compiled, we should say, rather in the interest of the public than of the profession, as a reference to it would enable business men to manage many affairs themselves, which without it, would require the services of a lawyer."

A Seven-Fold Crime.

Those who have looked on a field of battle when the strife was over, know how awful is the spectacle, and how impossible it is to banish from the memory. Yet there are sights even than this. Battle may be necessary. Such fields as those of Gettysburg and Waterloo still are hallowed by the recollection of a sacred cause. The horrors sacrifice and suffering in the thought of the inestimable good such sacrifices have purchased. But when the face of nature is defiled by deeds of brute and fiendish slaughter with the most revolting wicked intent, the impressions made are of very different. Such a scene was presented in this last week of March, in a remote spot of the West. Dramatic in all its accessories the tragedy almost stands alone for mysteriousness and atrocity. It happened in the quietest of sylvan neighborhoods, where life might be thought almost to realize that of Arcadia. Three miles southeast of the place known as Stone Fort, Saline county, Illinois, there is a picturesque dell, surrounded by the virgin forest, the clearing, barely a couple of acres in extent, lies some three hundred yards from the county road, and is connected with it only by a bridle-path. In the middle of the clearing is a small log hut, in and about which, on the 26th of March, were collected the horror stricken neighbors who on that day discovered what we are about to describe.

This secluded and remote nook of the wilderness was the home of a family named Dakin. There were a father, mother, and five children, the eldest twelve years, the youngest scarcely an infant two years old. The family had come to the locality before from Jefferson county, and, while very poor, seemed respectable and inoffensive people. It is said that the father, like too many of the hardy pioneers of the West, took too much whisky; and there are rumors of occasional quarrels between him and his wife. Still, in a general way, they seem to have got on well enough together; and, as their little affairs must have been, by all accounts, very homely and interesting, it is easy to believe that the parents, if sometimes at issue, were also bound by strong links. On the day mentioned the entire family were found weltering in blood and quite dead; and, from the condition of the bodies, and other circumstances, there is no doubt the husband and father committed the seven-fold crime. Inside the hut, on some quilts and blankets, stretched over a rough frame-work which served as a bed, lay the wife and mother. Not only was her throat cut, but the head had nearly severed altogether to the trunk by the vertebræ. The woman's hands were frightfully gashed, showing that the poor creature had made a desperate fight for life. On the hearth, her head among the ashes, lay a fair headed girl, the eldest of the flock—and on the pallet, where they evidently slept, were two little boys, one five the other seven years of age. Under the bed of the mother a fourth child, of not more than three, was found. All the children were cold and stiff, and all had their throats cut from ear to ear. The floor, the walls, the furniture, were deluge with blood, and there were indications of a long struggle before the dismal work of the assassin was consummated. It was finished at last, the woman thrown on her bed and her children disposed as we have described. The murderer, it seems, did not himself choose to die there. He took the youngest born, an infant, hardly a year old, and fled away into the darkness. There was blood on the door-sill—and in truth everywhere else within—but a sanguinary trail led toward the north-east. This, of course, indicated the line of Dakin's flight, and the pursuers did not go far ere they found him. He was stone dead like the rest, and with the same ghastly wound—the razor that had inflicted it still clutched in his right hand. Across his left arm lay the poor little baby—its throat cut, too—but nestling close to the murderer's side as if all unconscious that he who should have cherished had destroyed it.

The real motive for this almost unparalleled atrocity—like that of so many crimes lately committed—must always remain a mystery. There are, it is true, many conjectures. Some say the unhappy wife had a former lover, and that Dakin had doubts of her fidelity. It is supposed by these people that the wretched man was driven, through long brooding over his real or fancied wrongs, and through being inflamed to fury by drink, to commit this terrible slaughter. He died, however, and left no clue to his motive; and thus the strong probability that his act either arose from deep conviction of wrong, or was the result of insanity, supplies the only conceivable explanation of a deed of blood hardly equaled in all the mournful chronicles of crime.

Frank Kenyon, formerly of the Deer Lodge Independent, and Al. Merrick, an old employee of the Montana Post—both excellent newspaper men—are about to establish a paper in Corinne, to be called the Silver Era.

The German Peace Celebration.

The following address and resolutions were read at the Great German Peace Celebration a few days ago at New York City. They are admirable in tone and sentiment:

With deep and heartfelt sympathy, we, citizens of the United States of German descent, have followed the stirring events of which Europe has of late been the scene.

We shared the indignation and wrath that all Germany felt at a declaration of war of unprecedented frivolity, which tore hundreds of thousands of peaceful citizens from the bosoms of their families, and drove them into the dangers of a formidable war.

We shared the enthusiasm with which the German people from north and south unanimously sprang to arms, to keep in common a strong watch on the Rhine, a German stream;

We shared the joy at the vigorous German blows which met the wanton aggressor, stunned him, kept the miseries of war from Germany, and in a few short weeks destroyed the proudest army of Europe, and overthrew the most brilliant throne built on perjury and despotism.

Though fully conscious of the exertions and sacrifices demanded, we approved of the earnest determination of the German people not to lay down their arms until material guarantees should be offered against a repetition of the offensive wars which for centuries have been carried on by the French Governments, with the full consent of the French people, against Germany, and which have entailed upon her unspeakable misery and the loss of flourishing provinces.

We followed the course of the gigantic struggle with breathless suspense, alternately with admiration for the heroism and perseverance of the popular army, directed by the most ingenious leaders of the age, and the deepest sorrow for the countless sacrifices of lives and property; and, therefore, we now greet with undivided joy the conclusion of an honorable and, as we hope, a lasting peace.

In a grand and solemn mass-meeting assembled to celebrate the return of peace, we, as free citizens of the United States, recognize its great importance, reaching far beyond the boundaries of Germany and France, and we, therefore, express our sentiments and our hopes in the following resolutions:

1. We look with pride and admiration upon the results secured to the German people by the conclusion of peace—the disarming of an enemy who in the prevention of German unity saw the chief end of his policy; the abolition of the line of the Main, and the union of the North and South German States as one German Empire, with a Reichstag elected by universal suffrage. The mighty development of national feeling, and the diffusion of a thorough education in all classes of the inhabitants, are a guarantee to us of the lasting unity and greatness of Germany.

2. We express our deepest sympathy with the victims of the war, and feel confident that the Reichstag and Governments of Germany will regard it as a sacred duty to provide in a fitting manner for the invalids and the widows and orphans of the slain by means of efficient laws. We promise to aid, to the best of our ability, the efforts which the German people will continue to make for healing the wounds inflicted by the war.

3. We trust that the German people having arrived by its own free action at a clear and practical knowledge of its true wants, will complete with judicious energy the structure of its political institutions by means of a liberal Constitution, and that it will repulse, with the same strength and concord with which it has preserved its unity against the foreign enemy, any attempts to abridge its rights or to arrest its inner development.

4. We expect that the German nation, to whose innermost nature offensive wars are foreign, will not allow itself to be intoxicated by military success and glory; but that, warned by the example of France, it will recognize its mission in using the newly-acquired influential position in the council of nations to inaugurate a new era in international relations, in which offensive wars shall be rendered difficult, the abolition of standing armies be made possible, and the universal recognition of the principles of justice to humanity be insured.

5. We indulge the hope that the German people, strong by its unity, and respected abroad and steadily advancing on the path of liberty, will soon win back to devotion and attachment to the old fatherland the still estranged minds of the inhabitants of Alsace and Lorraine, who in customs and language have remained German.

6. We trust that, as once a deserved humiliation was for Germany the commencement of its self-knowledge and of its national regeneration, so their present humiliation may be for the French people the beginning of an earnest self-knowledge and of calm self-control, and that it will henceforth seek and establish its greatness not as in the past in wars of aggression and conquest, but in building up its internal liberty on the basis of the universal education of the people, and in the manly defense of true popular sovereignty against despotic reaction on the one hand, and bloody anarchy on the other.

7. Called upon as American citizens of German descent to recognize and to promote the manifold relations which every year connect the United States more closely with Germany, it is our right and our duty publicly to express our conviction that the great results of the peace just concluded in Europe will not fail to have a beneficent influence even upon America. It was the mission of France to destroy the old and decaying fabric of European society; it will be the task of Germany to found and erect the new edifice. In the future peace congress of the nations of Europe, Germany will preside, and, to promote the highest interests of humanity, will reach out across the ocean a fraternal hand for an alliance with the great Republic in which millions of its sons have found new a home.

LAND DEPARTMENT

OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd-numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a preemption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M. February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, thanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has those advantages over a pre-emption from the Government: The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfected in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest.

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.
